The Passive

Age: 32
Gender: Female
Occupation: Account Manager

BEHAVIOR

She's a busy career woman who takes a backseat approach to listening to music. She still relies on her local talk radio station to get news on her morning commutes, but she listens to playlists based on her mood during the day. She doesn't have a lot of time to spend thinking about what to listen to next, but she wants to discover music tailored to her taste.

GOALS

- Conveniently stream music whenever and wherever she wants

NEEDS

- A variety of catalog items that allow her to find music based on her mood

PAINS/FRUSTRATIONS

- Not knowing how to discover new music to listen to
- Overwhelmed by the endless options of music

The Curator

Age: 20
Gender: Male
Occupation: Student

BEHAVIOR

He's a music-obsessed millennial who creates themed playlists for almost anything: events, trips, seasons, people. He either works off of existing playlists created by others, or tweaks based on his radio 'likes.' He finds joy in sharing music with friends and sees himself as a bit of a tastemaker.

He's a sucker for listening to the music he listened to growing him. With no real interest in discovering new music, he seeks out the artists and genres that he's familiar with. Because his favorite bands are touring less and less, he likes to stay in the know on upcoming shows to be sure he doesn't miss the reunion shows.

GOALS

- To connect with his favorite bands
- Keep up with artists latest releases and tour dates

NEEDS

- Access to catalogs by artists he knows and likes
